Atlantic Bearing Services 10.2025

A PROUD MOMENT FOR ALL OF US AT ABS

I want to congratulate José Martínez Escanaverino, our Scientific Director, for his recognition at the 2025 Fall Technical Meeting Awards Luncheon in Detroit, organized by the Motion + Power Manufacturers Alliance (MPMA).

José received this distinction for his contribution to the development of the latest ANSI/AGMA and ANSI/ABMA standards, acknowledging his deep technical expertise and his lifelong commitment to advancing the science of gears and bearings.

We feel truly proud and grateful to have him leading our scientific and engineering vision at ABS. His dedication and knowledge continue to inspire our entire team.

Congratulations, Professor. Well deserved.
